ANTICIPATING
RETURNING TO TRAINING

Have you had a period of absence from training or practice?
Are you feeling rusty, or just a bit apprehensive about your return?

Anticipating returning to training is a course which aims to improve your confidence in navigating the challenges associated with the care of unwell paediatric patients.

This course is designed to help you to practice and reflect on those difficult non-clinical skills which are common to everyone who work with children. The day is structured with a series of stations which will present scenarios in which to practice these skills.
