

Homerton Obstetric Novice Education Day 2026

What Will We Cover?

- Introduction to obstetric anaesthesia and labour ward
- Top tips to prepare for your labour ward shift
- Physiology of pregnancy and its anaesthetic implications
- Labour analgesia including epidurals and PCAs
- Regional anaesthesia for C-Sections
- Obstetric haemorrhage and use of cell salvage

Includes workshops for:

- Epidural insertion technique
- Ultrasound guidance for neuraxial anaesthesia
- Common emergency scenarios during obstetric on-calls

When?

14th December 2026

Where?

Education Centre, Homerton University Hospital

Who?

CT2/ACCS 3 resident doctors and LEDs starting novice period in obstetric anaesthesia, or working towards IACOA

Interested?

Please email huh-tr.simulation@nhs.net with your name, grade and place of work, for an application form.

Cost: £150

(Includes lunch and tea/coffee)

- for anaesthetic trainees - covered by NHSE
- for LEDs - can be claimed back via Study Budget

Certificates of Attendance will be provided